

I always feel overawed by my county colleague as Norfolk County Council always seem to have the 'big ticket' announcements.

Whilst Breckland may not get the EDP coverage, its work tends to be quieter but no less important.

This year Breckland have,

Invested £750k in projects which support our 5 market towns High Streets.

Helped business bounce back from the Covid pandemic by allocating £4.2m of funding.

Helped to provide accommodation by investing over £4.6m in emergency housing for those made homeless.

Have welcomed almost 100 Ukrainians to the district and found interpreters to help integrate with local communities.

These actions have ensured that we can still shop at our market towns, find employment in the area and heaven forbid find ourselves homeless, know help is available.
